Description

Water walk along the Ceira riverbed. This river has a well-preserved riparian gallery. It begins at the preserved Quinta da Mata, in Poço da Mata. The route includes passing and crossing some dams and rocks through more than 6 jumps from 2m to 10m. Along the route, it is possible to see some species of fauna and flora from the region. Some toboggans can only be done at heights with higher flows. The route ends at the famous Poço da Cesta, where it is possible to perform several jumps of up to 10m and it is also possible to do apnea. This activity is a gentler form of canyoning, allowing you to get started with the sport. Requires some dexterity and physical resistance.
